

Chris Yoxall

Chris Yoxall is an Executive Vice President of the ROSEN Group and is presently based in Houston, Texas. He has over 25 years of experience in asset integrity management including legal, technical and contractual management; primarily in the Oil and Gas Industry. Over this period, Chris has worked throughout Africa, Australasia, Asia, China and North America. He remains involved globally, actively participating in various Standards and Committees, including Research and Development. He spends part of his time lecturing to industry and is a passionate advocate in the leadership development of future industry professionals.

He studied both mechanical and metallurgical engineering and is recognized with a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Management. Chris is as an executive of the Australian Pipeline & Gas Association Research & Standards Committee, as well being on the Board of Directors at The Energy Pipelines CRC and YPP USA respectively.