APPLICATION FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Through funding provided by the OOAIE Division of ASME and our industry sponsors, the organizers of the Outreach for Engineers Forum will be offering scholarships to cover registration costs. The scholarships are open to students and early professionals from around the world.

Hosted by:

Scholarships are available to:

- Senior Undergraduate Students enrolled in Engineering or Science Curricula.
- Graduate Students (both Masters and Doctoral levels) with specialization in fields such as ocean and/or offshore engineering, civil engineering, mechanical engineering, petroleum engineering, and aerospace engineering.
- Early professionals who graduated with the related engineering or science qualifications and have gained experience in other industrial and research environments but are interested in exploring the exciting career opportunities in the ocean, offshore and arctic engineering fields. Related fields for an early engineering professional might include experience in the automotive and aerospace sectors, building construction, manufacturing, ship building, etc. Many of the engineering skills learned in related fields can be applied to ocean, offshore and arctic engineering.

- A balance in the number of graduate students, undergraduate students and early professionals is considered essential for the success of the program. Applications may be turned down in order to achieve this balance.

Deadline for application: March 31, 2017

Standard scholarship amount includes:

Outreach for Engineers Registration

OMAE 2017 Conference Registration – STUDENT RATE or EQUIVALENT

A limited amount of funding is available for travel and accommodations to select students.

Note: All documents must be submitted in English.

Note: Individual scholarship awards may vary.

Note: Scholarships will be reserved for students and early professionals.

Note: Information on scholarship applications will be shared with our sponsors. Sponsors to be determined.
